The in-depth knowledge of metals and over six decades of technological experience are the grounds on which the FOMAS Group has cultivated its leadership in the field of forgings. Ever since its founding, the Group has always stood out for identifying and successfully rolling out state-of-the-art projects.

Today, in virtue of the implementation of Industry 4.0, the FOMAS Group lays the groundwork for yet another stage in its history, thanks to the creation of a Start-up dedicated to the production of metal powders.

Actually, over the past years, the Group has focused on powder metallurgy, and in particular on Additive Manufacturing. Following a series of economic and feasibility studies with the goal of assessing the sustainability of a Start-up dedicated to such operations and considering the positive findings of the research, a decision was taken to establish a new enterprise:

The company will be characterized by a dominant innovation trait in terms of plants, materials and processes, fitting flawlessly in INDUSTRY 4.0.

MIMETE will target various markets, namely biomedical, power generation, aerospace and racing; it will specialize in manufacturing metal powders.

In particular, the plan envisages investments in both plants and human resources. An atomization facility will be installed and commissioned to transform alloys and pure metals into fine, spherical metal powders.

Industry 4.0 is the cutting-edge evolution in the industrial world.

Its embodiment, MIMETE S.r.l., a solid and ambitious project of strategic growth, will propel FOMAS Group into a new dimension.

bringing ideas into reality.
